

EWS CHASETA WC PROJECT IN PICTURES

This was an old water source at Chaseta community, where they used to collect drinking water.

Here we see Joana climbing a 3 meters cliff with a bucket of 20l water which is not even safe to drink.

EWS CHASETA WC PROJECT IN PICTURES

In realization of the problem at hand everyone worked hard men and women.

Finally when all the efforts are harnessed the community is happy with the final product as portable water is now at a stone throw accessible and adequate. The burden of water borne diseases becomes a thing of the past and households can concentrate on other economic uplifting activities.

EWS CHASETA WC PROJECT IN PICTURES

On the well it's engraved the acronyms as below: "USAID-WC-EWSF" for United States Aid for International Development – World Connect – Environment, Water Sanitation Foundation.

See below all these children saved from frequent diarrhea diseases by this provision of portable water.

