

Herbalists Without Borders is sustained by volunteers, donors & members delivering health, wellness and humanitarian aid to those in need.

November 11, 2017

Dear Sir or Madam:

Herbalists Without Borders (HWB) is an international network of herbalists, traditional healers, complementary alternative medicine clinicians, botanical medicine product-makers, trades people, herb growers, farmers, ecologists, students and others interested in the role of plants in primary health and wellness, sustainable agriculture, trade and ecological preservation and restoration.

HWB recognizes that many global citizens lack access to health and wellness due to economic and other barriers. HWB firmly believes that health is a human right, not a privilege. Organizing and volunteer efforts focus on alternative health and wellness solutions, through education, empowerment and advocacy projects.

We have over 70 chapters around the globe, including North America, Europe, Africa and Oceania. In Uganda, we have a very active Herbalists Without Borders Uganda Chapter, with Irumba Juma Siriwayo as the Country Coordinator. Dr. Siriwayo is working to expand Herbalists Without Borders in Uganda, through educating herbalists, hosting trainings, and partnering with agencies who share our mission of providing health justice and humanitarian aid to those in need. HWB Chapters and their members often partner with other agencies, groups and aid/relief organizations to address specific health needs in their communities. By working together we can often reach more people, and tackle larger projects and initiatives.
