TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

This is to certify that Janaki Women Awareness Society (JWAS), Dhanusha worked in partnership with International Foundation for Electoral System (IFES) from August 2011 to October 2015.

During the project period, JWAS implemented the Voter Education Program for voter registration and election education activities, targeting women of selected VDCs in Dhanusha, Mahottari, Sarlahi, Sindhuli and Bara districts. For this project, JWAS coordinated and collaborated with GOs, NGOs and community groups to educate and motivate marginalized groups to increase their participation in the Voter Registration and Electoral Process.

The following specific activities were undertaken by JWAS within the project:

- Community and district level awareness-raising for increased participation of women in the voter registration process
- Mobilization of women for door-to-door visits, sharing information and motivating marginalized communities to prepare citizenship certificates and participate in the voter registration process
- Coordination with District Election Offices and District Administration Offices regarding support for citizenship certificate preparation and voter registration
- Media mobilization for the promotion of political rights of women
- Street drama performances to educate local community on the voter registration process
- Help-desk support at voter registration places
